ADVERTISING SALE!

We have an object in using this space to-day-Friday, Nov. 12. We are a trifle dissatisfied. Our reason able wishes are not realized. To-day we are going to discuss a few points concerning our Collar, Cuff, and Ruching Department. We don't think it is doing as well as it ought, considering the stock we carry. We want you to notice it, to visit it, to patronize it. You do all three? Thank you. This advertisement is not meant for you, then. Glad to see you any day. But to those who favor our other departments and-if they purchase Collars, Cuffs, and Ruchings at all-trade elsewhere, we wish to say that to-day, to-morrow (until 9 p. m.), and on Monday, we are going to make some sacrifices for the purpose of inducing you to trade at this particular department. Now, it makes no difference how much (if any) we are losing on the prices we name, but you will not lose anything, rest assured, if you take advantage of our Pure Linen 3-Ply Collars at 4 for 25c, which we have been selling 3 for a Quarter; or at 3 for 25c, the same Collars we have been selling at 10c, 11c, and 2 for a Quarter. For 25c you can get 2 Collars we formerly sold at 15c each. In Cuffs we have offered you a pair of Pure Linen 3-Ply, 10c per pair; now we offer them 3 pairs for 25c. Our 20c Tucked Chemisettes we will sell at 15c, and our 24c ones at 19c. In Ruchings we offer 10c goods for 7c; these come in white, pink, blue, and cream. For 12 1-2c a 15c Crepe-Lisse Ruching; any of our 20c Crepe-Lisse Ruchings for 15c, and for 20c a yard our regular 25c Ruching. These are only the reductions we have made in a few lines in this Department. We haven't room to speak of any more, but everything in this Department has been reduced. We want to sell more in this Department in future than we have in the past, and it won't be our fault if we do not. One object in this reduction has been to so bring the Department to your notice as to encourage your patronage in the future.

DALTON & STRICKLAND,

939 Penna Ave. MONEY TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE OR first-class securities at lowest rates of in-

in Circulation. Dr. Kimball, director of the mint, said esterday on the subject of the scant supply f pennies and five-cent nickels that the singe was executed at the mint at Philadelphia, but had been suspended on the 16th of February, 1885, by Secretary McCulloch, of February, 1885, by Secretary McCulloch, on the ground that the amount outstanding was redundant. It has since appeared that there was great inequality in the distribution of the stock of minor coin in the hands of the subtressuries, and applications for the same to the mint at Philadelphia, which is ordinarily charged with their distribution, have been referred to the assistant treasurer at Philadelphia, where a large surplus had collected. This surplus was maintained until, in the middle of September, it was turned over to the mint for cleaning and reissue. About this time an unprecedented demand arose for penules and nickies, which soon exhausted the $50,000 transferred from the subtreasury. Since

THE DEMAND FOR MINOR COIN.

Not Less Than 7.000,000 Pennies Now

cedented demand arose for penules and nickles, which soon exhausted the $58,050 transferred from the subtreasury. Since then the work of striking new pieces has gone on, without interruption, to the full capacity of the mint over and above the mandatory silver dollar coinage. In order to increase the output of minor coins, its quots of silver dollar solnage. In order to increase the output of minor coins, its quots of silver dollars has been reduced, and to the same extent their coinage at San Francisco and New Orleans increased.

The director attributes the great demand in part to the tendency of minor coin to unequal circulation through general want of acceptability, especially at banks. The circulation of penules is confined to localities where odd change is exacted by way of street railway fares, &c., and especially by the extraordinary increase of late of shops whose policy it is to fix prices at odd amounts, that is to say, at prices not corresponding to denominations of subsidiary coin—the director referring to the 90-cent-stores, so-called.

The directoris now endeavoring to ascertain the total active circulation of penules and 5-cent pieces, and considers that not less than $7,000,000 of penules are now in active circulation in the United States.

The mint at Philadelphia is now turning out minor coin to the value of $3,000 a day. The demand for these coins is to-day some $200,000 ahead of the supply. The amount out minor coin to the value of $5,000 a day. The demand for these coins is to-day some $200,000 ahead of the supply. The amount will soon be made up, and the public want will be fully met, even though this results in redundancy through the tendency to get into particular channels and to accumulate at public depositaries.

Orders for minor coins are filled in the order of application, but the superintendent of the mint will probably be obliged to resort to the expedient of filling large orders in two instainments.

During the year 307 patients have been treated, and, in addition, 554 persons received medical aid. The deaths were 7 shults and 3 infants. There were 68 operations performed, some of them the most difficult and dangerous in surgery, with a mortality of 4, and in these 4 cases the operations were a last resort to save life. An elevator is asked for, as also the extension of the raundry, in addition to the appropriation of $15,000 for enreut expenses. The receipts of the hospital for the fiscal year were $15,000 from the United States treasury, $4,297 from pay patients, and a balance over from pay patients of $1,550, making a total of $20,580. The daily average of cost for each patient was $1.96. teal aid. The deaths were 7 adults and 3 total of $20,586. The daily average of cost for each patient was $1.36.

A CONVENT ELOPEMENT.

Sister Colombe Abandons the Vell, Marries, and Returns to the World.

(Philadelphia Press Special.) OTTAWA, ONT., Nov. 8 .- The settlement f Temiscamingue enjoys a sensation caused the nun known as Sister Colombe at Temiscamingue. There is a convent in that place in which until recently were four nums. The spiritual welfare of these and other Catholics of the place is looked after by three priests who reside near the convent. three priests who reside near the convent. For some time past a young man named Laferriere, who was in the last Hudson Bay expedition, has been a frequent visitor, as was supposed, to see a young French-Canadian girl who lived there in the capacity of a servant. Subsequent events have proved that both the priests and the other residents of the village were wrong, and it now appears that the young servant girl was only the medium through whom Laferriere and Sister Colombe carried on their courtship. The inmates of the convent awoke one morning recently to find that Sister Colombe had taken her departure during the night and was not to be found. The simultaneous disappearance of Laferriere at once convinced the priests that it was Sister Colombe and not the young servant who had convinced the priests that it was Sister Colombe and not the young servant who had been receiving the attentions of Laferriere. The sister was traced to Ottawa, where her parents reside, and with the facts of her escape Archhishop Duhamel was made acquainted. He at once wrote to her requesting her to call on him, and in reply was told that if he wanted to see her he would find her at her mother's house. His grace then went to see her, but all entreaties to induce her to return to her convent life failed, and she was married to Laferriere. Two of her sisters had also entered the convent, but, following the example of their sister, they have also given up the veil.

Nebraska Politics. Lincoln, Nam., Nov. 7.—The loss in Nebraska of one member of Congress was not a surprise of one member of Congress was not a surprise to many who knew the amount of money (some say $50,000) that would probably be thrown into the contest against Howe, the regular Republican candidate, it is doubtful whether any Republican could have overcome the smount expended. Added to this was the disaffection of the Van Wyck element, which openly and secretly opposed Howe all over the district, which will return probably to plague Van Wyck's severe efforts to be reelected. Van Wyck's appeal to the people for the popular vote was a dead failure, slihough the state was carefully canvassed by countles—the senator having been on the stump ever since Congress adjourned.

The vote which he did receive was cast by both Democrats and Republicans, it having been the policy of the Morton element of the Democracy to aid Van Wyck as against the "regular" Republicans; but this policy is reprobated by the regular or Dr. Miler-Boyd faction of the Democracy. It is impossible at present to say just how the legislature which is to elect a successor to Van Wyck will stand, but returns indicate about 30 Republicans to 43 Democrats, which would give the Republicans including Van Wyck will stand, but returns indicate about 30 Republicans to 43 Democrats, which would give the Republicans including Van Wyck men. 17 majority on joint ballot. But some of the Morton Democrats will probably favor the election of Van Wyck as an Independent rather than any other Republican, and this policy the Miler-Boyd Bemocrats will oppose. The latter will insist on a straight pull. The "regular" Republicans, of course, have hoped to Lave enough, independent of van Wyck ever the van Wyckers and the straight or regular Republicans cannot be definitely determined at present, but the chances seem to favor a following for Van Wyck of favor of any man but van Wyck, which would in the Republicans and the straight or regular Republicans and the straight or regular Republicans of the Democratic faction fears some such combination.

The effort of the regular Repub omany who knew the amount of money ome say $50,000) that would probably be

THE MARKETS.

A Busy Day in Stocks-Bull Stories Which Had Effect in Wall Street, New York, Nov. 11.—The news of the day was not generally of a character to affect relices on the stock exchange, and the usually active shares presented little feature of im-portance throughout the day. The extraor iffered no diminution, and they were again softent and scattive-series states, however, suffered to diminuition, and they were again active and strong, monopolising most of the interest taken in the speculation. The market was active and feverish in the early part of the day, over one third of the entire day's business being transacted in the first hour. Prices were weak throughout almost the entire day, heavy realizations by the room contributing to most to this effect.

Among the specialities Richmond and West Point, Norfolk and Western, and Colorado coal were most traded, in. The former was particularly active and strong upon the usual bull stories put out of late, though the assertion that a settlement had been arrived at with the Danville Company probably had most effect. There was a reaction in the afternoon, and slight fractions were gained with some increase in activity, but the last two hours aw decline resumed, and the market became weaker as well as more active as the close of business approached, and the final figures are generally the lowest of the day.

POETICAL WORKS OF ASA S. BOYD, to-gether with an altegory of the journey of life Affectionately dedicated to his wife and children, and designed for the good of the general reader. With selections from the writings of J. H. Boyd. Baltimore, Md.; Published by Asa S. Boyd, author of "Mod-ern Mnemotechus; or, How to Acquire a Good Memory." Sit North Fremont street. From the publisher.

This volume is religious, reasonable, and This volume is religious, reasonable, and rhyming—sometimes not rhyming, by mistake, perhaps—but it would be improper in any case to call it poetry. The author's motive is excellent, he seeks to do good to mankind. In some degree his object will be accomplished, for the kindness of his heart and the power of his brain must have effect. Yet the true flame of inspiration has not touched him; he dwells within its light, but not in the glow of its warmth. We quote a single verse from "The Old School House," the said house being a building lately extant in Washington, but which is now yielding its place to a new edifice:

In forty years to come, or less,
The school house will be gone,
And all of those who filled its scats
In life's bright sunny morn,
And other structures take its place,
Which other eyes shall see.
But nevermore the old school house

HOW TO STRENGTHEN THE MEMORY, OR NATURAL AND SCIENTIFIC METHODS OF NEVER FORGETTING, By M. L. Hol. BROOK, M. D., editor of "The Herald of Health," author of "Hyglene of the Brain," &c. New York: M. L. Heibrook & Co. From the publishers.

Undoubtedly, the memory can be strengthened by culture. In this volume the most suitable methods for the purpose are shown. They are simple. They accord with the nature of the mind. Every cord with the nature of the mind. Every one can understand the precepts.

We approve highly the recommendations, and have faith in their efficacy. Nor are we alone in this, for confirmatory communications are among the pages, as to the influence and decided results of the system.

As it deserves, we commend the book to all good people needing its aid. Though small, only 152 pages, it is beautifully produced as to paper, presswork, and bluding.

NINTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN HUMANE ASSOCIATION, Held at 8t, Louis, Mo., Nov. 18, 19, and 29, 1485. From the secretary A. H. A., 193 State street, Chicago, Ill. This report of the proceedings exhibits throughout a noble and most commendable regard for human rights and the rights able regard for human rights and the rights of animals. The benevolent speeches are here enforced by almost equally eloquent pictorial illustrations of the cells sought to be remedied. Plans are proposed for the more merciful, or less cruel, slaughtering, deemed necessary to supply food. Good, if the demand still must be blood; but to us it seems altogether avoidable. Man does not need mest. He would be healthier and happier without it.

"Oysters That Grow on Trees."

[Life on a Coral Island. Popular Science.]

The boat soon reached the mangrows, and, pushing in as far as possible, we found ourselves surrounded by the life of the tropics. As the tide was out, we could reach up from the boat and gather over our heads the oysters which were growing in great clusters on the roots and branches of the trees. The clear water was filled with fishes of strange forms and brilliant colors, and they were perfectly fearless, so that they could be examined without difficulty as they chased and captured food among the submerged roots. The bottom was thickly covered with beautiful sea anemons, and everywhere, on the bottom, on
